can you spare 9 minutes
to read a message 19 centuries old?

The Sermon on the Mount is for everyone.
Anyone who reads it will be happier today.
Anyone who carries it in his heart will be happier forever. Read...re-read...and understand its words.
No speech ever promised...or delivered...so much.

WHEN he saw the crowds of people he went up on the mountain. There he seated himself, and when his disciples had come up to him, he opened his lips to teach them. And he said:

★ Blessed are those who feel their spiritual need, for the Kingdom of Heaven belongs to them! Blessed are the mourners, for they will be consoled! Blessed are the humble-minded, for they will possess the land! Blessed are those who are hungry and thirsty for uprightness, for they will be satisfied! Blessed are the merciful, for they will be shown mercy! Blessed are the pure in heart, for they will see God! Blessed are the peacemakers, for they will be called God's sons! Blessed are those who have endured persecution for their uprightness, for the Kingdom of Heaven belongs to them! Blessed are you when people abuse you, and persecute you, and falsely say everything bad of you, on my account. Be glad and exult over it, for you will be richly rewarded in heaven, for that is the way they persecuted the prophets who went before you!

★ You are the salt of the earth! But if salt loses its strength, how can it be made salt again? It is good for nothing but to be thrown away and trodden underfoot. You are the light of the world! A city that is built upon a hill cannot be hidden. People do not light a lamp and put it under a peck-measure; they put it on its stand and it gives light to everyone in the house. Your light must burn in that way among men so that they will see the good you do, and praise your Father in heaven.

★ Do not suppose that I have come to do away with the Law or the Prophets. I have not come to do away with them but to fulfill them. For I tell you, as long as heaven and earth endure, not one dotting of an i or crossing of a t will be dropped from the Law until it is all observed. Anyone, therefore, who weakens one of the slightest of these commands, and teaches others to do so, will be ranked lowest in the Kingdom of Heaven; but anyone who observes them and teaches others to do so will be ranked high in the Kingdom of Heaven. For I tell you that unless your uprightness is far superior to that of the scribes and Pharisees, you will never even enter the Kingdom of Heaven!

★ You have heard that men were told "You shall not commit adultery." But I tell you that anyone who strays from his marriage in thoughts of lust toward another has already committed adultery in his heart. But if your right eye makes you fall, get rid of it, throw it away, for you might better lose one part of your body than have it all thrown into the pit! If your right hand makes you fall, get rid of it, throw it away! For you might better lose one part of your body than have it all go down to the pit!

★ They were told, "Anyone who divorces his wife must give her a certificate of divorce." But I tell you that anyone who divorces his wife on any ground, except unfaithfulness, makes her commit adultery, and anyone who marries her after she is divorced commits adultery.

★ Again, you have heard that the men of old were told, "You shall not swear falsely, but you must fulfill your oaths to the Lord." But I tell you not to swear at all, either by heaven, for it is God's throne, or by the earth, for it is his footstool, or by Jerusalem, for it is the city of the great king. You must not swear by your own head, for you cannot make one single hair white or black. But your way of speaking must be "Yes" or "No." Anything that goes beyond that comes from the evil one.

★ You have heard that the men of old were told "You shall not murder," and "Whoever murders will have to answer to the court." But I tell you that anyone who gets angry with his brother will have to answer to the court, and anyone who speaks contemptuously to his brother will have to answer to the great council, and anyone who says to his brother "You cursed fool!" will have to answer for it in the fiery pit! So when you are presenting your gift at the altar, if you remember that your brother has any grievance against you, leave your gift right there before the altar and go and make up with your brother; then come back and present your gift. Be quick and come to terms with your opponent while you are on the way to court with him, or he may hand you over to the judge, and the judge may hand you over to the officer, and you will be thrown into prison. I tell you, you will never get out again until you have paid the last penny!

★ You have heard that they were told, "An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth." But I tell you not to resist injury, but if anyone strikes you on your right cheek, turn the other to him too; and if anyone wants to sue you for your shirt, let him have your coat too. And if anyone forces you to go one mile, go two miles with him. If anyone begs from you, give to him, and when anyone wants to borrow from you, do not turn away.

★ You have heard that they were told, "You must love your neighbor and hate your enemy." But I tell you, love your enemies and pray for your persecutors, so that you may show yourselves true sons of your Father in heaven, for he makes his sun rise on bad and good alike, and makes the rain fall on the upright and the wrongdoers. For if you love only those who love you, what reward can you expect? Do not the very tax-collectors do that? And if you are polite to your brothers and no one else, what is there remarkable in that? Do not the very heathen do that? So you are to be perfect, as your heavenly Father is.

★ But take care not to do your good deeds in public for people to see, for, if you do, you will get no reward from your Father in heaven. So when you are going to give to charity, do not blow a trumpet before yourself, as the hypocrites do, in the places of worship and the streets, to make people praise them. I tell you, that is all the reward they will get! But when you give to charity, your own left hand must not know what your right hand is doing, so that your charity may be secret, and your Father who sees what is secret will reward you.

★ When you pray, you must not be like the hypocrites, for they like to pray standing in the places of worship and in the corners of the squares, to let people see them. I tell you, that is the only reward they will get! But when you pray, go into your own room, and shut the door, and pray to your Father who is unseen, and your Father who sees what is secret will reward you. And when you pray, do not repeat empty phrases as the heathen do, for they imagine that their prayers will be heard if they use words enough. You must not be like them. For God, who is your Father, knows what you need before you ask him. This, therefore, is the way you are to pray:

*'Our Father in heaven,
Your name be revered!
Your kingdom come!
Your will be done on earth
as it is done in heaven!
Give us today bread for the day,
And forgive us our debts,
as we have forgiven our debtors.
And do not subject us to temptation,
But save us from the evil one.'*

For if you forgive others when they offend you, your heavenly Father will forgive you too. But if you do not forgive others when they offend you, your heavenly Father cannot forgive you for your offenses.

★ When you fast, do not put on a gloomy look, like the hypocrites, for they neglect their personal appearance to let people see that they are fasting. I tell you, that is all the reward they will get. But when you fast, perfume your hair and wash your face, so that no one may see that you are fasting, except your Father who is unseen, and your Father who sees what is secret, will reward you.

★ Do not store up your riches on earth, where moths and rust destroy them, and where thieves break in and steal them, but store up your riches in heaven, where moths and rust cannot destroy them, and where thieves cannot break in and steal them. For wherever your treasure is, your heart will be also. The eye is the lamp of the body. If then your eye is sound, your whole body will be light, but if your eye is unsound, your whole body will be dark. If, therefore, your very light is darkness, how deep the darkness will be! No slave can belong to two masters, for he will either hate one and love the other, or stand by one and make light of the other. You cannot serve God and money. Therefore, I tell you, do not worry about life, wondering what you will have to eat or drink, or about your body, wondering what you will have to wear. Is not life more important than food, and the body than clothes? Look at the wild birds. They do not sow or reap, or store their food in barns, and yet your heavenly Father feeds them. Are you not of more account than they? But which of you with all his worry can add a single hour to his life? Why should you worry about clothing? See how the wild flowers grow. They do not toil or spin, and yet I tell you, even Solomon in all his splendor was never dressed like one of them. But if God so beautifully dresses the wild grass, which is alive today and is thrown into the furnace tomorrow, will he not much more surely clothe you, you who have so little faith? So do not worry and say, "What shall we have to eat?" or "What shall we have to drink?" or

"What shall we have to wear?" For these are all things the heathen are in pursuit of, and your heavenly Father knows well that you need all this. But you must make his kingdom, and uprightness before him, your greatest care, and you will have all these other things besides. So do not worry about tomorrow, for tomorrow will have worries of its own. Let each day be content with its own ills.

★ Pass no more judgments upon other people, so that you may not have judgment passed upon you. For you will be judged by the standard you judge by, and men will pay you back with the same measure you have used with them. Why do you keep looking at the speck in your brother's eye, and pay no attention to the beam that is in your own? How can you say to your brother, "Just let me get that speck out of your eye," when all the time there is a beam in your own? You hypocrite! First get the beam out of your own eye, and then you can see to get the speck out of your brother's eye.

★ Do not give what is sacred to dogs, and do not throw your pearls before pigs, or they will trample them under their feet and turn and tear you in pieces. Ask, and what you ask will be given you. Search, and you will find what you search for. Knock, and the door will open to you. For it is always the one who asks who receives, and the one who searches who finds, and the one who knocks to whom the door opens. Which of you men when his son asks him for some bread will give him a stone? Or if he asks for a fish, will he give him a snake? So if you, bad as you are, know enough to give your children what is good, how much more surely will your Father in heaven give what is good to those who ask him for it! Therefore, you must always treat other people as you would like to have them treat you, for this sums up the Law and the Prophets.

★ Go in at the narrow gate. For the road that leads to destruction is broad and spacious, and there are many who go in by it. But the gate is narrow and the road is hard that leads to life, and there are few that find it.

★ Beware of the false prophets, who come to you disguised as sheep but are ravenous wolves underneath. You can tell them by their fruit. Do people pick grapes off thorns, or figs off thistles? Just so any sound tree bears good fruit, but a poor tree bears bad fruit. No sound tree can bear bad fruit, and no poor tree can bear good fruit. Any tree that does not bear good fruit is cut down and burned. So you can tell them by their fruit. It is not everyone who says to me "Lord! Lord!" who will get into the Kingdom of Heaven, but only those who do the will of my Father in heaven. Many will say to me on that Day, "Lord! Lord! Was it not in your name that we prophesied, and by your name that we drove out demons, and by your name that we did many mighty acts?" Then I will say to them plainly, "I never knew you! Go away from me, you who do wrong!"

★ Everyone, therefore, who listens to this teaching of mine and acts upon it, will be like a sensible man who built his house on rock. And the rain fell, and the rivers rose, and the winds blew, and beat about that house, and it did not go down, for its foundations were on rock. And anyone who listens to this teaching of mine and does not act upon it, will be like a foolish man who built his house on sand. And the rain fell and the rivers rose, and the winds blew and beat about the house, and it went down, and its downfall was complete.

★ When Jesus had finished this discourse, the crowds were astounded at his teaching, for he taught them like one who had authority and not like their scribes.

Slow Time ... Don't Change It
by Inez Robb

Anyone who writes a column becomes accustomed to petitions from individuals trying to enlist him as a mouthpiece for causes ranging from Aardvark (Preservation of) to Zymosis (Suppression of).

The projects dear to men's hearts never cease to be amazing. There are devout adherents out to save the hole in the doughnut (always the best part, in my opinion); wild-eyed partisans both for and agin fluoridation of water; and even a dedicated band working night and day to restore Aaron Burr to a lofty position as patriot and founding father.

Right now I am being crowded by a little group of zealots who are hot for calendar reform. They are dead-set against the Gregorian calendar under which we have marked time for centuries and which, in turn, was and is an outgrowth of the Julian calendar established by J. Caesar. (Just to keep the record and the calendar straight, Pope Gregory XIII updated Caesar's work in the 16th Century.)

If we are to give credit where credit is due, the ancient Mesopotamians developed an accurate calendar even before the ancient Egyptians, who usually get all the kudos. But such is the history of pioneers.

Anyway, this brings us down to the present-day rule of thumb: "Thirty days hath September, April, June and November; All the rest have thirty-one, Excepting February alone, Which hath but twenty-eight, in fine, Till Leap Year gives it twenty-nine."

The long and short of it is that I like this arrangement. That verse is now firmly fixed in my head. I am not prepared to learn any new doggerel to establish in mens sana a calendar consisting of 13 months (I'm superstitious) of four weeks each or of 12 months laid out in a different pattern than the 12 we already have.

These are the two principal reforms advocated by those who want to confuse everybody with a new calendar. One of the most ardent advocates of a calendar reform is Willard E. Edwards of Honolulu who has worked out a 12-month "Perpetual Calendar" in which each month has 26 working days, plus Sundays, and each quarter has 91 days.

The Gregorian calendar drives him wild because it "lacks fixity and equality in its divisions." Well, sir, that's just what makes me crazy about the Gregorian calendar. I don't want time all tidied up so that the Fourth of July always falls on Thursday and Christmas eternally on Monday, as it does in the Edwards Perpetual Calendar. I like to be kept guessing. Do we have to have conformity even in the calendar?

Under his proposal, Mr. Edwards says "literally thousands of hours annually would be saved" for productive work. Why, that threat alone is enough to make me cling to the Gregorian calendar like a barnacle!

The trouble with the calendar reformers is that they are working on the wrong angle. The real problem is not the fact that February has only 28 days, save in Leap Year, and January always has 31. The crux of time is that it is ever swifter in its flight. When I was younger, the year used to consist of 12 good, leisurely months. Now it has shrunk to approximately six, all fast-paced.

If the zealots will leave the calendar alone and turn their efforts to slowing time down to a walk once more, I'll back 'em to the hilt. Never mind any new months; just make the old ones last longer!

Observations

By Bob Walsh

EARNED INCOME IS EARNED INCOME

There is one aspect of the current consideration of an income tax by Warren of which we do not approve. We understand that there will be an effort to exclude rent from the earned income to be taxed.

This makes very little sense to us. To say that this will give the property owner relief is ridiculous because all who own property will pay earned income taxes. And all who own property pay millage.

It provides an out only for the big property owner, the investor in property as a means of making money. It is his source of earned income, and the income should be taxed just as is that earned by other property owners who make theirs through the products they manufacture.

Let us say that one man chooses to invest fifty thousand dollars in a building and to use it for the manufacture of ear muffs. The profits he makes are subject to the earned income tax.

Another man prefers to invest his fifty thousand, and a few more thousand that otherwise would go into machinery and other costs, in several houses; perhaps seven or eight of them. His rent, less costs, certainly is his earned income.

And if he has enough to invest in prime business blocks, plants, and other real estate for rental purposes he certainly can afford to pay his share of earned income tax.

Of course one of his deductible costs is the real estate tax. And he will have charged sufficient rent to cover that. Don't worry about double taxation. It doesn't apply here. No more than it does to the man with the manufacturing plant.

If the earned income tax is to be as fair as possible it must apply to everyone who has such a source of revenue. We believe it is as fair as any tax available under the archaic Pennsylvania tax system, but it does not mean that all property owners will not be affected.

The one person who seldom escapes local taxes is the man who owns property. They have him on record and he is pegged for per capita, occupational or any levy that goes onto the books. They are sending him a tax bill and it will include every one going.

The great advantage that the earned income tax has over the per capita is that it does not miss the many who duck the head tax. In this way it actually does give the property owner some help because the many who are avoiding a share of our public costs are nailed at the source and the resulting revenue is so much greater that some relief can be offered the real estate owner.

But this does not mean there should be relief for the man who chooses to invest his money in real estate for profit-making purposes. Council's great concern for the property owner should not be stretched so far that it approves a new tax and then introduces a loophole for those who are best able to pay. This defeats the basic purposes of a tax that comes as close to being fair as any available.

The man who owns more than one house does not have the second one for living purposes. It is a source of income and should not be excused from the earned income classification. And if he owns a third, fourth, fifth, and a sixth house, he certainly is in business and is taxable under the meaning of the earned income tax law.

We do not believe anyone should be excused, if we ever pass it, unless they are specifically exonerated by the state enabling act. Unless this is so, we doubt if they legally can be. But if there is a choice, tax them.

(And a Merry Christmas to All)

BUYERS' CORNER

GAS SEEKS MORE

The ink is not completely dry on the news reports of a rate increase allowed the Manufacturers Light and Heat Company and they are after more. They say this one is required because of Pennsylvania's 14 mills utilities gross receipts tax which goes into effect on January 1. It is a 1.4 per cent rate increase they want.

If this is allowed why not change the law to apply directly to the bill in the first place. It is another case of the patchwork taxation program this state requires to meet a variety of obligations, including county, city, borough, and township expenses.

Instead of creating a tax base which can be seen and is based on ability to pay we have a hodgepodge of assessments, many of which cannot be seen, but all of which you can be sure get right back to your pocket-book.

Under the new rates asked by the gas company a typical customer will pay 8 cents more a month if he doesn't heat with gas. It will be 26 cents more if he does, the Company says.

What a strange way to assess a tax?

BAIT ADVERTISING GUIDE

The Federal Trade Commission has issued a four-point guide to help identify and avoid bait advertising and switch selling. A summary goes like this:

"1. BAIT ADVERTISEMENT. No advertising containing an offer to sell a product should be published when the offer is not a bona fide effort to sell the advertised product.

"2. INITIAL OFFER. Sellers should not misrepresent a product in an advertisement in any way so that later, by disclosing the true facts, they will be able to switch the purchaser from the advertised product to another. Even though the true facts are subsequently revealed to the buyer, the law is violated if the first contact is secured by deception.

"3. DISCOURAGEMENT OF PURCHASE OF ADVERTISED MERCHANDISE. Advertisers should not discourage the purchase of advertised merchandise as part of a bait scheme to sell other merchandise. The following are among practices which will be considered in determining if an advertisement is a bona fide offer:

(a) Refusal to show, demonstrate, or sell the product offered in accordance with the advertised terms.

(b) Disparagement of the advertised product or of the guarantee, credit terms, or in any other respect.

(c) Failure to have available at all listed outlets a sufficient quantity of the advertised product to meet reasonably anticipated demands, unless the advertisement clearly discloses that the supply is limited or the merchandise is available only at designated outlets.

"(d) Refusal to take orders for the advertised merchandise to be delivered within a reasonable period of time.

"(e) Showing or demonstrating a product which is defective, unusable, or impractical for the purpose represented in the advertisement.

"(f) Use of a plan designed to prevent or discourage salesmen from selling the advertised product.

"4. SWITCH AFTER SALE. In the event of sale of the advertised product, advertisers should not attempt to "unsell" the product with the intention of selling other merchandise in its stead. Among practices which will be considered in determining if the initial sale was in good faith, and not a stratagem to sell other merchandise are:

"(a) Accepting a deposit for the advertised product and then switching the purchaser to a higher priced product.

"(b) Failure to make delivery of the advertised product within a reasonable time or to make a refund. Also delivery of a product which is defective, unusable, or impractical for the purpose represented in the advertisement.

"(c) Disparagement of the advertised product or of the guarantee, credit terms, or in any other respect."

HIGHEST QUALITY

You probably have heard it said in radio advertising that the gasoline made by Warren's United Refining Co. has the highest octane ratings on the market. The refinery now has put out a news release to this effect.

It reveals that the Keystone Powerfuel has a rating of 95 and Keystone Powerflight 100 is in excess of 100. The national average for regular is 92.2 and for premium, 99.3.

Hundreds of gasoline samples were tested in a national survey to arrive at these figures. They reveal that Warren's refinery has more than kept pace with modern methods and its continuous program of plant improvement has made it one of the nation's most modern refineries. In business since 1902, the United today is the largest refinery in the world's first oil region, says the report.

NATO Is Little More Than Words

by
Marquis Childs

PARIS. -- That old song, "Did You Ever See a Dream Walking?" could serve as the theme song of the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance. Never at any time during the decade of NATO's existence have the plans and the proposals of the military schemers and dreamers been translated into force in being. And now, in the midst of a conflict over whether to negotiate with the Russians or not to negotiate and when and how and where, the cracks in the structure are widening.

The failures of NATO have often been toted up in the past. Its demise has frequently been predicted. Yet, it has survived, in however diminished a form, if only because at an appropriate moment the rattling of missiles from the other side of the Iron Curtain seemed to give it a new reason for being.

Outwardly the situation today is quite different. During the current NATO meeting, with the customary demand for more strength and a bolder posture, scarcely a peep has come out of Moscow. The Eisenhower-Khrushchev talks and the negotiations they opened up are taken as a portent of peace in a Europe that is flushed with prosperity.

With the backdrop on the world stage thus altered the North Atlantic allies are engaging in what has very much the look of the old game of power politics. Rivalries and hostilities are more and more nakedly exhibited -- the Franco-German alliance on the continent versus the British-led group on the periphery.

Access to markets, economic supremacy, even military domination, these are the prizes being fiercely contended for within the alliance. Add to this the personalities of Konrad Adenauer with his almost-total power in Germany and Charles De Gaulle, who towers in cloudy grandeur over the French horizon, and you have a prescription for something rather less than a close-knit defensive alliance.

A sense of the urgent realization of this went into Secretary of State Christian Herter's opening address to the NATO Council. Unlike the late John Foster Dulles on a similar occasion, he did not threaten the Allies with "an agonizing reappraisal" of American policy. But with unmistakable firmness he made it plain that unless Europe is ready to do more to meet NATO commitments and help shoulder the burden of the underdeveloped nations of the world the United States will no longer continue to carry a disproportionate share of the load.

What he stressed was that actually the situation had not changed, since the Soviet threat to overwhelm the free world still stands. Yet there are signs that negotiation with the Russians may open the way to an eventual settlement achieved over a long period of time. He declared that the United States intends to maintain the combat effectiveness of its five divisions in Europe.

Figures circulated privately by the American delegation show how marked is the discrepancy between what the United States is doing and what the European allies are doing. For defense and foreign aid the United States is devoting 11.6 percent of the gross national product. This compares with 5.5 for Germany, 4.7 for Italy and 5.1 for the Netherlands.

The percentage for France is 12.1, but this includes the cost of the war against the rebels in Algeria. The French insist that that war is in defense of the North Atlantic Alliance and part of General De Gaulle's anger resulted from America's failure to vote with France in the United Nations against the Algerian resolution.

As the German delegation made clear here once again, Adenauer's policy -- and Germany is Adenauer -- is to block any meaningful negotiation with the Soviets. The venerable Chancellor contends that to change one single stone in the present structure of Germany and Berlin, short of reunification on his terms, is to bring it all down. And how, he is said to have demanded to his fellow heads of government, do you expect me to be re-elected in 1961 if you propose making concessions that can only benefit the Social Democrats? In 1961 Adenauer will be 85 years old.

De Gaulle has taken a similar view, although at the same time he angered the Germans by declaring that the eastern provinces lost to the Soviet bloc at the end of the war must be regarded as permanently separated from the Reich. He appears to consider himself another Charlemagne, prepared to rule over a Europe under the hegemony of France.

There is a lurking suspicion that he might want to strike his own bargain with the Russians in the game of power politics. Khrushchev is coming to Paris for a 12-day visit in March and elaborate preparations are being made to receive and impress him. Presumably long before that happens France will have shot off her atomic device in the Sahara and thereby have become eligible for membership in the atomic club.

Sitting across the channel the British are not unhappy to discover the old subsurface rivalries recurring, despite the outward Franco-German embrace. Prime Minister Macmillan is reported to believe that De Gaulle's real objective is to keep Germany permanently divided so that France will always be the dominant power. The six nations in the European free trade area look with suspicion on the seven assembled under the leadership of Britain. This has the making of the bitterest kind of national rivalry.

It is all very well to call for American leadership to check the reversion to the law of tooth and fang. But what power America can exercise over a Europe fully recovered it is difficult to see. America's own defensive measures, such as the buy-American policy applied to the Development Loan Fund, may accentuate the kind of rivalry springing up so fast.

As the old proverb has it, "When the devil was sick the devil a monk would be," if prosperity is a measure of health, then in Western Europe there is no repining and the fine words about unity and loyalty are just that -- words.

FIREMEN TO MEET

The January meeting of the Warren County Active Volunteer Firemen's Association will start with a 7 o'clock dinner in the North Warren Community House on January 14.

In Brief

COUNTY LIBRARY FUNDS AVAILABLE JAN. 10.

Money will arrive for the new Warren county library service about January 10. The funds have been held up because the state legislator did not appropriate enough money to match the available federal funds. However, it has been possible to use the amount spent by the various Warren county libraries as a part of the funds to be matched, thus meeting requirements.

The amount to be received will be about $47,000, some of which must be used for capital purposes. The bookmobile will be held in Harrisburg until books can be obtained and the library prepared to provide service. It may go into action about April.

TO BE APPOINTED

Sheriff-elect Donnell Allen announced today that he will appoint Richard Hegerty, 25, of 200 Pickering st., Sheffield, as the Chief Deputy of Warren County at the beginning of the year. Hegerty, a graduate of Warren High School, served 17 months in Korea, and has been employed the past four years by C. Beckley, Inc. He also has served as a part time policeman in Clarendon Borough and Sheffield Township for the past three years.

Hegerty is married to the former Carol Andrews of Sheffield, and is the son of Mrs. Glen Mickelson, of Warren, and William Hegerty, of Cleveland.

ARRESTED ON TWO COUNTS

On Monday the State Police arrested a Southwest Township man, Lowell Thomas, on two charges, disorderly conduct and pointing a deadly weapon. The violation occurred on Dec. 11 and charges were filed by Wilbur Thomas, the defendant's father, before the Justice of the Peace at Enterprise, R. H. Williams.

Thomas was arraigned before Williams on Monday and he pleaded not guilty to the charges. He was then committed to the Warren County Jail and placed under a $500 bond. The hearing will be set at a later date.

INVOLVED IN MISHAP

A very complex accident occurred on Monday afternoon on Route 6 just west of Warren at 2:55 p. m. An auto operated by Steven Rensma, of Youngsville, was following a car and truck travelling west on the highway and pulled out to pass the two vehicles just as the truck was making a right hand turn. The car following the truck slowed down and pulled out around the truck, forcing Rensma to pull into the path of an oncoming vehicle driven by Betty Johnson, of Clarendon.

Both the Johnson and Rensma vehicles came to a stop before colliding, but a third car, operated by James Forslund, of 311 Pennsylvania ave., E., which had been following the Johnson machine, plowed into the stopped car, driving it over the embankment.

Injured in the mishap was Leroy Johnson, Jr., 301 McPherson st., Warren, who suffered slight lacerations of the head. He was treated by the family physician.

Damage to the Johnson car was about $550 and to the Forslund auto an estimated $250. The Rensma vehicle was not damaged in the incident.

SMALL CHILD STRUCK

A three-year old tot, Lynn Gage, of Russell, was struck by an auto, driven by Arnold Neil Crossley, of Clarendon, last Friday afternoon at 2:55 p. m. The mishap, which occurred between Second and Third streets on Liberty, brought a bruised lip to the youngster, who ran from between some parked cars.

MOTORIST ARRESTED

Clemmer Bean, of Spring Creek, was arrested last Saturday afternoon by the borough police as a result of a three-car accident in which he was involved. The collision, which occurred in the intersection of Hammond st. and Madison ave., resulted in $400 damage to the Bean auto and $350 damage to a car owned by A. E. Lingo, Akeley.

Lingo was proceeding north on Hammond st. and when he entered the intersection, he struck the Bean auto, not being able to stop in time to avert the collision. The Bean car was thrown across the road by the impact into a telephone pole. Mrs. Katherine Lingo was ejected out of the auto by the crash and both she and Mr. Lingo were treated for injuries.

Bean was arrested for reckless driving.

THREE CARS DAMAGED

A three car collision occurred last Saturday afternoon at 2 p. m. at the intersection of Liberty st. and Pennsylvania ave. A car, operated by Burton Punskey, 116 Wayne st., Warren, was facing east on the avenue and had stopped for the light at the intersection. The second auto, driven by Alex Pisko, 19 Dartmouth st., pulled along side the Punskey auto and struck a third car, operated by Martha J. Rogers, 19-1/2 Walnut st., which was travelling west on Pennsylvania. After Pisko had struck the Rogers machine, he backed into the Punskey auto, made the turn to go north on Liberty and proceeded up that street.

Total damage in the accident amounted to about $200 and Pisko was arrested by the police for being intoxicated while operating his vehicle.

JAMESTOWN DRIVER PINCHED

An accident occurred last Saturday at 2:45 p. m. in front of 106 Pennsylvania ave., W., involving autos operated by Kenneth Allen, R. D. 2, Jamestown, N. Y., Rachel M. Amey, 218 Chestnut st., Warren, and Woodrow Jensen, 621 Pennsylvania ave., E.

All drivers were proceeding west on the avenue and Allen rammed into the rear of the Amey auto, which, in turn, struck the rear of the Jensen machine. An estimated damage of $100 was done to the three vehicles and Allen was arrested for reckless driving.

INTO THE REAR

The State Police report an accident which occurred last Saturday afternoon at 5:45 p. m. on Route 6, about one mile east of Warren. The cars involved were operated by Virgil Boughton, Clarendon, and Russel J. Rogers, of Tiona. Both cars were travelling east on the highway when Boughton struck the rear of the Rogers machine.

Boughton, Mary Rogers, and Lucrecia Rogers were all taken to the Warren General Hospital for treatment of injuries received in the collision. About $500 damage resulted to the Boughton auto and an estimated $200 to the Rogers vehicle.

TWO AUTO SIDESWIPE

Two cars, operated by Linda Forsberg, of Youngsville, and George Drunkenbrod, of Tidioute, sideswiped on Route 6 about one mile west of Warren Saturday evening at 8:50 p. m. Forsberg was proceeding east on the highway and Drunkenbrod, west, when the collision occurred.

Damage to the Forsberg machine was estimated at $1000 and to the Drunkenbrod auto, about $500.

IN TO ORBIT

Saturday was a busy day for the enforcement officials as they investigated many accidents, this one occurring at 11:55 p. m. on Route 6 about three miles west of Warren. A car, driven by Patrick Kent, of R. D. 1, Warren, failed to negotiate a turn and went off the road. About $300 damage resulted to the machine.

KINZUA TOT HIT

Gary Culbertson, 6, was struck by an auto while crossing Route 59 in Kinzua, suffering minor injuries. He is being treated at WGH. The driver of the car was Elinor Baken, of Perrysburg, Ohio. The Baken machine was proceeding east on the highway when the boy darted in front of the car, being struck by the left front wheel of the auto.

ON HOSPITAL ROAD

An accident occurred on Monday afternoon at 1:05 p. m. on a road in the State Hospital grounds involving vehicles operated by John Berdine, 502 Water st., Warren, and Raymond Anderson, 94 Crestview Boulevard, Pleasant Township.

Berdine, travelling east on the road, went into a skid and struck the on-coming vehicle. About $50 damage resulted to the Berdine car and $200 to the Anderson auto.

REPEAT PERFORMANCE

Jack MacDonald, of Pittsburgh, was brought before the Warren court last Friday and was sentenced to pay $125, costs, and spend three days in the Warren County jail on each of two charges of drunken driving brought against him.

The first offense occurred last August, and when the man came to Warren for his trial, he was again found driving while intoxicated on the eve of his trial.

MERCURY DIPS LOW

Yes, the mercury in Warren area thermometers dropped to below the zero mark for the second straight day this morning.

What more can we say than Merry Christmas good friends in the sunny South.

ANNUAL MEETING

The annual dinner and meeting of the Warren YMCA will be held at 6:15 Tuesday, January 19.

TUESDAY MISHAPS

An accident occurred yesterday afternoon at the intersection of

NEW SUB STATION. Work will start next April or May on a new sub station to be erected on the South Side by the Pennsylvania Electric Co. A company official told the Observer the station would cost between 50 and 60 thousand dollars and should be in operation by early fall.

To be located on the southeast corner at the intersection of Onondaga and Biddle streets, the new sub station will offer the company better working facilities and more back-up service for the borough of Warren.

At the present Penelec has stations at the bus barn on the East Side and on Eddy st. in the West Side.

In Fair Condition

Mrs. Robert (Victoria) Porter, 43, of North Warren, who was seriously injured in a three-car automobile crash Monday near Johnsonburg, was reported in fair condition this morning by a hospital spokesman.

Mrs. Porter and a son, John, 11, were injured when the former lost control of her machine just outside Johnsonburg at 2:15 p. m.

Their car skidded into the path of a car driven by Howard E. Defibaugh, 27, Johnsonburg, and then spun into a third vehicle driven by Richard DeLong, 21 also of Johnsonburg. Total damage amounted to $1700, $800 of this to the Porter machine.

The North Warren woman sustained a dislocated hip, fractured right chest, cerebral concussion, and multiple lacerations. Young John suffered multiple bruises and lacerations of the scalp, and severe bruises of both eyes.

Fourth and Chestnut streets involving vehicles operated by Edward Maeder, proceeding south on Chestnut, struck the Dahl auto in the right front fender in the intersection. Total damage in the collision was estimated at $300.

Chester W. Jenkins, of Chester, Pennsylvania, was the operator of a vehicle which left the highway near the intersection of Routes 6 and 62 Tuesday at 1:45 p. m. Jenkins went off the highway in attempting to avoid a collision with an on-coming car, travelling west, which was about to make a left turn onto Route 62.

Injured in the mishap was Martin Saures, Johnstown, Pa., a passenger in the Jenkins auto. He sustained a sprain and bruises of the right ankle. Damage was estimated at $700.

Rocky Road For Rocky

by
Doris Fleeson

DALLAS, Tex. -- Here and in Oklahoma the strictly organization Republican pulse flicked only feebly under the warm touch of Gov. Nelson Rockefeller. His aides insist things will be better in Florida, the seventh and final stop of this pre-Christmas reconnaissance of his Presidential chances.

There is not a single Republican Governor in the seven states to welcome him, so he has been singularly at the mercy of the party machinery. That it generally favors Vice-President Richard Nixon for the nomination in 1960 was not news; that it does not seem to recognize the Governor of New York as a party asset worthy of some public advertisement is noteworthy.

In Oklahoma, a party spokesman who was on the state ticket last year confided to reporters that he had to conspire and connive even to get the invitation extended to Rockefeller to stop there on his journey. Proxies were finally obtained from friendly undercover sources and the job accomplished only by a resolution formally inviting both the Vice-President and Rockefeller into the state whenever their time permitted.

This gentleman was soundly beaten in his effort to hold public office, so he might be somewhat prejudiced, but he flatly asserted that the state party had never been in worse shape, with fewer prospects for improvement. Furtively pointing to some members of the rather small gathering for Rockefeller, he charged, "This outfit cares only for Washington patronage. Besides they're afraid to meet Rockefeller for fear they'll change their minds."

The short Dallas stop was arranged so the Governor could speak for the Council of World Affairs. The presence of well-heeled and eminent Texans at the head table indicated that some support exists here for the Rockefeller position, but the political leaders were conspicuously scarce.

Also, in a species of silent treatment rather rarely accorded a Rockefeller, the Dallas Morning News yesterday did not mention his arrival here at all. He made that edition only on page eight with a press association story from Milwaukee headlined: "Criticizes McCarthy -- Rockefeller risks loss of Wisconsin."

It is indeed true that at Green Bay Wednesday morning he said he "completely disagreed" with the late Senator's methods and would have voted to censure him.

Some of McCarthy's admirers curiously have raised the Rockefeller banner. It is understood that this is more in protest against Vice-President Nixon and President Eisenhower for failing to stand by their hero than in warmth for Rockefeller.

Rockefeller's forthright comment on McCarthy is typical of his handling of all the controversial issues which cut in different ways in the states he has visited than they do in

New York. He has been firmly against segregation in the Southwest; before Roman Catholic audiences he has stood by his position that if the United States should be asked for birth control information by another country, the information should be given.

He did toss this oil-producing area a very juicy bone. He favors the 27-1/2 percent oil-depletion tax allowance and would not propose lowering it. A Tulsa newspaper sweetly commented that he talked like a man who knew something about the oil business.

NEW PROGRAMS FOR OLD

WORLD-WIDE '60 is the title given to the new 13-week series making its debut on NBC Saturday, Jan. 23. Replacing "Five Fingers" the new program is an hour-long show dealing with public affairs and current issues.

THE DOW HOUR OF GREAT MYSTERIES is a series of mystery classic specials which NBC will telecast during the coming months. The first is scheduled for March 31, 9-10 p. m., the second is slated for Sunday, April 24, with a third to be presented later in the spring. Altogether, there are nine programs in the series for the 1960-61 season.

REVLON'S BIG PARTY will be dropped Feb. 25 but no definite announcement has been made for its replacement. The "party" flopped on ratings.

ACADEMY AWARD "OSCAR" show will be presented on NBC April 4.

TOM EWELL, star of "A Thurber Carnival" which hits Broadway in February, has been signed by CBS to star in a new situation-comedy series for next season. The program has not been titled yet but Ewell will play the role of a real estate broker in a Midwestern town, and the only male in a household which includes wife, mother-in-law, three daughters and a female dog and bird.

CONTINENTAL CLASSROOM ON VACATION

Like colleges and universities throughout the nation, Continental Classroom is giving its students a two-week Christmas recess. Both the Modern Chemistry and the Atomic Age Physics courses will resume on Monday, Jan. 4.

The January, 1960, Reader's Digest carries an article about this program called "They Go To School At Dawn." "They" refers to the more than million viewers who rise early for the courses on television. The combined "student body" would require 1,333 science professors in as many classrooms if the instruction were given in the conventional manner. This is an example of the scope and usefulness of educational television.

WBEN MOVES

Congratulations to WBEN, (AM, FM and TV), which, after three decades in downtown Buffalo, is moving in January to an ultra-modern new radio-television center at 2077 Elmwood Avenue in North Buffalo. Radio broadcasting from the new facilities will begin Jan. 10 and television broadcasts will start from the new location on Jan. 17.

NAMES AND SHOWS

ARLENE FRANCIS will emcee Jack Paar's show from Dec. 28 through Dec. 31 and Joey Bishop will take over the following week. Paar is vacationing.

JOAN CRAWFORD will be a guest on "Hedda Hopper's Hollywood", an NBC Rexall special on Jan. 10.

THE IRA HAYES STORY, a drama based on the last years of the American Indian hero of Iwo Jima, will be a Sunday Showcase show for March 27.

THE MAGIC AND THE REAL, story of a small circus, will be the Sunday Showcase presentation on Feb. 28.

DEAN MARTIN's guests for his Tuesday, Jan. 12, show will be Nanette Fabray, Fabian and Andre Previn.

ETHEL MERMAN, Beatrice Lillie, Ray Bolger and Benny Goodman, four of the biggest names in show business, will join forces for a Bell Telephone Hour on Friday, Jan. 29, titled "The Four of Us."

BOB HOPE will entertain U. S. servicemen in Alaska over the Christmas holidays and film the show for home showing on Wednesday, Jan. 13.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAMS THIS WEEK

PERRY COMO will have his usual Christmas party tonight (Wednesday) and guests will be Shari Lewis with her puppets and ventriloquism act and Bob Williams with his trained dog.

AMAH! AND THE NIGHT VISITORS will be presented by NBC Opera Company on NBC channels Christmas Eve at 8-9 p. m.

MIDNIGHT MASSES will be televised on both CBS and NBC networks, Christmas Eve.

CHRISTMAS DAY CHURCH SERVICE from Washington Cathedral in the nation's capitol will be televised by NBC at 10-11 a. m. Christmas day.

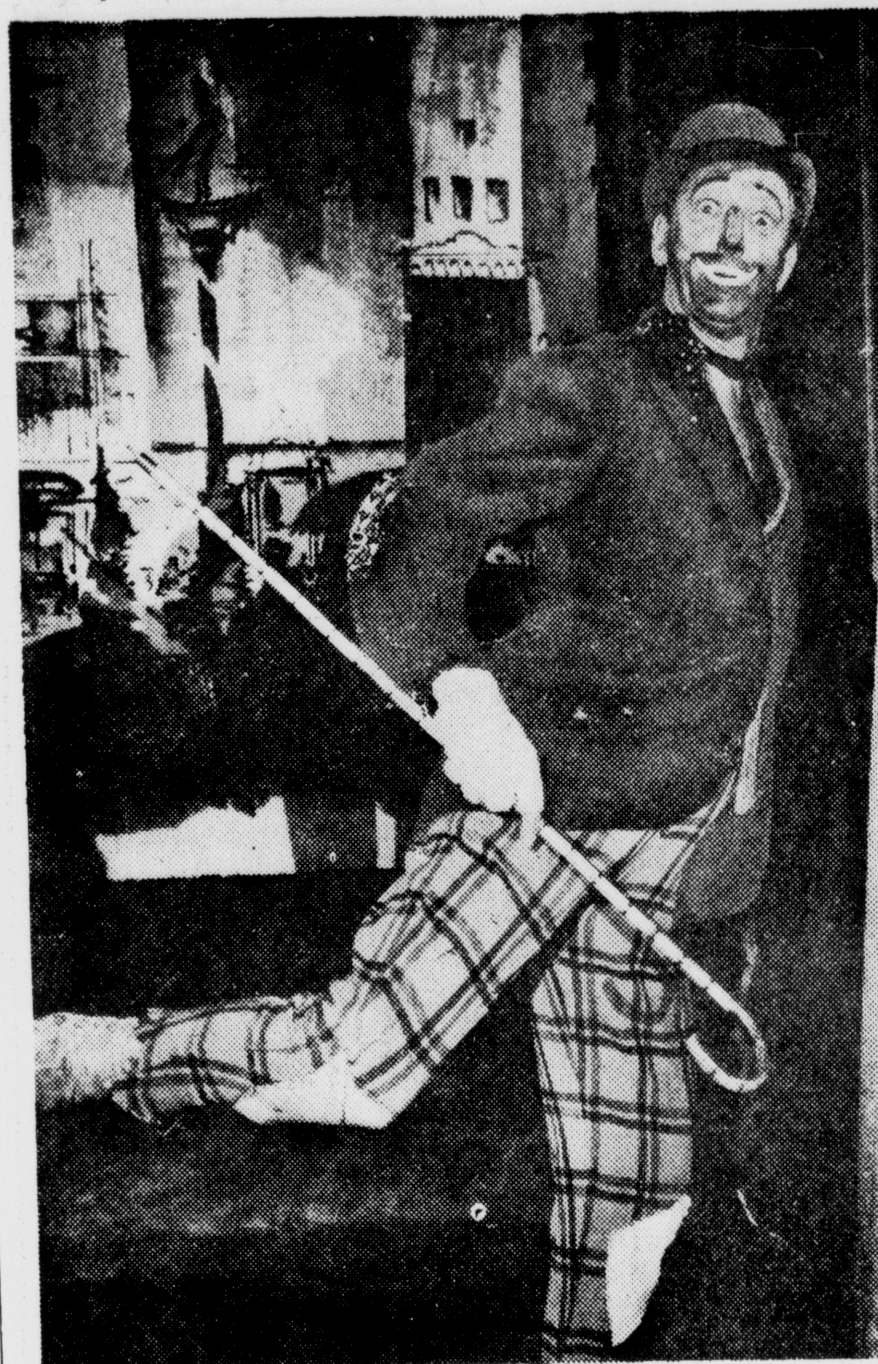

NBC has two programs scheduled for Christmas night. "The Night of Christmas" will be seen at 8:30 p. m., and "Christmas On Temple Square" is scheduled for 10:30 p. m.

WHY NOT MAKE IT?

One of the major steps we can take in this area to attract the dollars of vacationers is to fill in the gaps that stretch between our attractive seasons. We offer a month of small game hunting, and two weeks of deer season. Then we go dead for weeks, and actually for months.

We talk of ski runs and skating, and we have a bit of it, but this really is a very poor winter sports area. The interest is here, but the weather is not cooperative. About the time you whip up enough interest in a group to develop the coordinated effort required to make a ski run and erect a lift, the winter goes bare and enthusiasm is lost. The skis are tucked away and indoor interests develop. Another spurt of snow fails to draw the deserters.

Efforts to advertise this area as a winter resort and to have ski trains from cities such as Pittsburgh have failed because of winter's inconsistency. After a few train trips had been cancelled because of poor weather the city residents stopped looking in our direction and found other more dependable pleasures.

The Department of Forests and Waters is showing some interest in this sport by opening a ski facility in Potter county's Denton Hill State Park. There are two lifts and thirty acres of slope for which fees ranging from one dollar to three dollars are charged.

The rates are two dollars for adults and one dollar and fifty cents for those sixteen and under on week days. On week ends and holidays the rates move to two and three dollars. After one-thirty each day they reduce the rates fifty cents.

The fact that there is interest in the sport is revealed by the existence of thirty-five ski clubs in this state. This is a large starting point from which to draw customers if a ski facility is provided. Given the slopes and lifts the sport soon would snowball.

AUGMENT NATURE

Even as our attractions are spotty, so is the means of making the difference, namely the temperature. Our answer seems to lie in man's ability to rectify this lack with artificial snow and ice.

Thus we would be complementing both the weather and the current attractions. And the cost would be nothing compared with the revenue, to which you of course can add the value of good health.

But we are dealing in cold dollars now and we are convinced that this area is dependent on two approaches to its economic health. It must add industry which complements its present plants and can use its excess of raw material, and it must fully utilize its vacation and recreational assets.

These outdoors pleasures are about to expand as the river becomes more clean and controlled, and when we have a major lake added to our water attractions. But it is the nature of this section to have long periods of very drab winter weeks which are wet, raw, and unattractive, and in consequence are not conducive to the healthy habit of having fun outdoors.

We also have many weeks of cold weather supported by snow. These would greatly reduce the cost of making snow and ice and in really "good" winters we might use our artificial facilities very little. But they always would be there to assure the guest a means of enjoying his favorite sport. At least his favorite in season.

The provision of dependable winter sports would complete the cycle of attractions and assure this area of a solid income throughout the year. It can be done, as proved by other areas that are not any more blessed than we are with natural assets. We have the mountains, the slopes, and level stretches.

If a state as far south as Virginia can come up with such facilities, and do well enough to justify ads in national magazines, why can't we?

"POOR" COMO

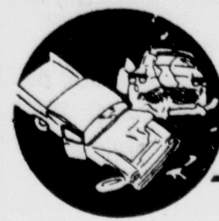

The theme song with the "dear" Perry in it may be changed to "poor" Perry if we are to believe the national rating systems. The gunmen are shooting the studied casualness boy down the gulch and the last we looked Nielson had him trailing Wagon Train, Gun Smoke, Rawhide, Have Gun Will Travel, and even 77 Sunset Strip, Jack Benny, and another Perry (Mason).

A scanning of other rating systems also show the tranquilizer in trouble. Wagon Train and Gun Smoke consistently gain top billing. And even 77 Sunset Strip sneaks into the top three or four in some systems.

The success of Wagon Train probably accounts for the failure, or the alleged failure, of what we consider to be the best detective show on television. We are referring to the Line-Up. This show was changed to a full hour this year and competes with Wagon Train. It is being cut off in the pass, scalped and tossed to the wolves, as of January 27.

Though we are not so naive as to believe that it is completely factual, the Line-Up is far more believable than most TV crime shows, and the added half hour has allowed plot development so that the stories are more interesting.

But the ratings say inverted thumbs. They're nuts!

The Lights of Christmas

Christmas lights are everywhere
To bless the world again!
Haloed candles' golden flames
At every windowpane —

Lamplight streaming cheerily
From welcoming doors flung wide —
Firelight soft on little heads
That dream of Santa's ride —

Starshine drifting from the sky —
Lights that bob and glow
As dancing lanterns mark the way
The merry carollers go —

O lovely Christmas lights that make
The world a wondrous place,
Show us the way until we see
The glory of His face!

WHEN CHRISTMAS WASN'T

The early Christians did not believe in celebrating birthdays. They considered it pagan to celebrate that which meant the assumption of original sin and frequently the beginning of a life of persecution and perhaps martyrdom. Such people as Herod celebrated birthdays. It was sacrilege to suggest that a divine being had one.

But three hundred years changed some of this thinking and in the year 354 the Bishop of Rome declared December 25 to be the anniversary of the birth of Christ.

There are some scholars who will disagree with that date, but few of us are concerned about the accuracy. The fact is enough.

The monk Dionysius Exiguus introduced the idea of reckoning time from the birth of Christ in the 500's. But scholars say he missed a few mathematical curves and that Christ was born four or six years earlier.

Even the Puritans who gave us our start by way of rocks and New England thought Christmas was a pagan rite and they enacted blue laws banning mince pie. Mince pies are associated with Christmas because they originally were baked in the shape of a manger. Besides, they are good.

All of this comes from a World Book Encyclopedia release and you might have some seasonal fun making comparisons with what your own favorite set has to say.

One thing is sure. There is a Christmas and for most of you the 1959 edition offers only one more shopping day. And for many of you when you read this you will have had it... and perhaps have been had.

KEEP IT COOL, MAN

Almost no one lights candles on a Christmas tree these days. But they do many other things that are just about as dangerous, like using frayed wires or inflammable decorations.

The usual warnings are in every paper and on every radio, such as putting the tree in water to keep it moist, and watch your cigarette ashes near trees and gift wrappings.

We suggest you make this easy by having plenty of ash trays in convenient spots. Provide a handy box for your wrappings and get them out of the way in a hurry. Don't consider any tree fireproof. At least don't tempt it.

If you burn your tree in the furnace or fireplace you are taking a chance. It is explosive and can send flames shooting into the room to burn you, the family, or the pets, and maybe ignite furniture, draperies or any inflammable items that are handy.

An Announcement From Warren General Hospital

The following is the current policy regarding the administration of anesthesia to patients who are admitted to Warren General Hospital for emergency operations and to maternity from 3 P. M. to 7 A. M. weekdays or on Saturday and Sunday.

Every other night and every other weekend there is a nurse anesthetist on call to give anesthesia service.

On alternate nights and alternate weekends there is a physician (anesthesiologist) on call to provide this service.

Patients receiving an anesthetic from the nurse anesthetist on duty at night and weekends will be charged for her services on the regular hospital bill.

Patients receiving service from a physician on call every other night and every other weekend will not be billed by the hospital but will receive a separate bill from the physician for his professional services.

The above arrangement has been in effect since December, 1958 in order to give 24-hour anesthesia service at the hospital. The announcement is being made at this time due to some misunderstanding among patients who have been admitted to the hospital and were not aware of this arrangement.

Mrs. Mary Russo, the nurse anesthetist employed by Warren General Hospital, is on call every other night and every other weekend. Harry M. Wildblood, MD and J. R. Essig, MD are cooperating with the hospital in providing emergency coverage on nights and weekends when Mrs. Russo is not on duty.

The above is a temporary arrangement and an announcement will be made when the situation changes.

And no matter how careful you may be the unexpected can happen. Do you own a fire extinguisher? You should, and you should learn how to use it. But don't forget to call the fire department, too.

DID YOU PAY

The Internal Revenue Department this year is putting on a drive to find some unpaid taxes. You are supposed to pay a tax on your income from dividends and interest. About five billion dollars in such income is not reported each year and you will receive a slip with your tax form to remind you that it is taxable... if you have any.

LONG TIME

One of Sylvania's long-service employees is associated with a Warren plant. Eighty Sylvania employees have joined the quarter century group this year, placing the total membership at 747. Among those with the longest service is Frank J. Sterley, who has been with Sylvania for thirty-two years, and works in Warren.

SHERIFF'S SALE

By virtue of a writ of FIERI FACIAS issued out of the Court of Common Pleas of Warren County, Pennsylvania, and to me directed, there will be sold at the Court House in Warren Borough, Warren County, Pennsylvania, on

at 2:00 P. M.

Eastern Standard Time

ALL THAT CERTAIN piece or parcel of land situate in the Borough of Warren, County of Warren, and State of Pennsylvania, being Lot "C" as laid down and designated on the map or plan of lots of Stewart H. Loding and wife entered in the Recorder's Office of said County in Deed Book 186, page 93, said premises being more particularly bounded and described as follows:

BEGINNING at a point in the north line of Conewango Place Extension, 157.37 feet westerly of the east line of the Loding plat; thence west along the north line of Conewango Place 53 feet to a stake; thence northerly along the line of Lot "B", 146.85 feet to a stake, the northeast corner thereof; thence easterly along the north line of the Loding plat, 53 feet to a stake; thence southerly along the west line of Lot "D", 147.4 feet to a stake, the place of beginning.

BEING the same premises conveyed to Kenneth C. Fox and wife by deed of Walter Kiser and wife, dated November 5, 1953 and recorded in Deed Book 250, page 365.

Having erected thereon a one-story frame dwelling house.

Seized and taken in execution and will be sold as the property of Kenneth C. Fox and Marian E. Fox at the suit of Titusville Trust Company.

By John Crosby

Who'll Be Selling What in '60

You know what I think is the most pernicious new trend in commercials these days? (Now let's see. What DO I think is the most pernicious new trend in commercials? There are so many of them.) Well, I think the most pernicious new trend in commercials is Max Shulman smoking that cigarette and selling it to the people, that's what I think. As if that weren't bad enough, now he's got a sort of column that appears here and there full of funny anecdotes which is really one long advertisement.

It's not that I'm opposed to funny ads. They're wonderful. It's not these aren't very funny ones. They are. It's just that I'm against Max Shulman, one of our funniest writers, of whom there are darned few, getting in the advertising business. It's just been in the last decade or so that the actors have been suborned by the base workings of commerce. I still feel a little aggrieved when I hear Bing Crosby pushing gas ranges. What's Bing Crosby doing that for? Or Frank Sinatra selling Fords on the radio. Frank Sinatra needs maybe the money he's got to be selling cars on the radio?

It's got so no actor can get work unless the commercial pitch goes right in with it. But at least writers, I had always felt, put their precious integrity above gold. But now Max Shulman has let them get their foot in the door, heaven knows where it'll end. Next thing you know, William Faulkner's face will be seen grinning out of an ad with the words: "All the Nobel Prize-winners I know use Munchkin, the tissue with the porous fibre. Munchkins don't shred or tear. Leave no sticky after feel on the fingers. When I'm changing the ribbon on my typewriter after my latest Nobel Prize-winning book, I always wipe my fingers with Munchkins, the soft-pored tissue."

You see what I mean? Not only is a writer trading in his integrity for a mess of filthy money; he's wrecking his style and even imperilling his grasp on syntax.

While on the subject of commercials, I have here a longish complaint from a reader: "It is a fact that a particular deodorant is excellent for statues -- but I always thought their problem was pigeons. Still, one thing I could never stand was a sweaty statue."

"I don't much mind car salesmen on TV. Car salesmen have always been a breed of Shrill Shills and, it's like buying a horse; if you get stuck, it's your own fault. That's a great American tradition, I believe. It's this posing as authority and filling me with junk, I question."

AND MAY WE ADD,
THANKS FOR EVERYTHING.

"This is a fact: I took Geritol for weeks (I had ALL their symptoms) and then discovered -- my blood wasn't tired. My blood was excellent and fighting off the Geritol tooth and nail.

"Diets. Are these people never called to account? It seems to me a lucrative field all around. TV plugs the weight-losers and the Sunday magazine sections pay writers to say they won't take off weight. Who's refereeing this bout?

"We can go on and on. All cigarettes are really the same -- lousy these days. A detergent is a detergent. Cosmetics is a feminine field and therefore, beyond the reach of us all. But -- the pseudo-psychiatrist, the fake doctor or dentist, the non-existent laboratory equipment which 'tests' exactly what -- no one even intends to look into this rigged fakery, do they?

"As for Dr. Stanton's crusade through the field of dramatic license -- what nonsense! There are, and always will be, people who believe everything they see, hear, or read. (My mother for one!) Frankly, there's too much holding the people's hand and wiping its nose and protecting it from the facts of life. Americans have got to learn how to cross the street by themselves some time. You mean people took these quiz shows seriously? Well, it's about time Toyland was left.

"As for Rep. Harris: He's the one spending my money! And on an investigation which -- halfway through -- he discovers that Nothing Can Be Done About It!, that any legislation will backfire in all directions. Harris is the one we need protection from.

"Will he do some good and discover that Carter's Little Liver Pills have been ruled -- many times -- rigged advertising by the Federal Trade Commission but that the television industry in its entirety has taken no notice of this government's condemnation?"

Warren Sewer Plant
Completes First Year

Warren's new sanitary sewage facilities, including the plant and the pumping stations, have completed their first year of operation and the engineer's annual report reveals the facts and figures involved, including proposed corrections that will make the system more efficient and legal. Actually only the plant has completed a full year. The pumping stations were placed in operation at various times.

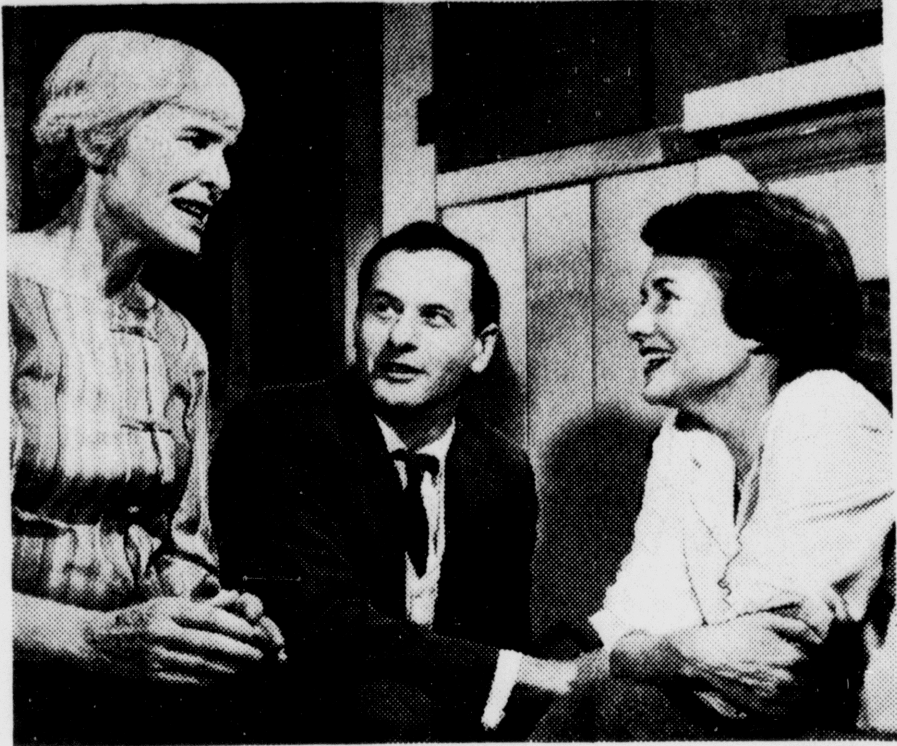

The expenses listed for the year are proposed as the budget for 1960 and total $162,000. Of this, $80,190 is the annual rental which will pay off the bonds and eventually will provide a debt-free facility to the community.

Administration costs, in addition to the rental, are $16,390. Operation of the disposal plant and the pump stations requires $40,200. The sanitary sewer system accounts for $21,180. Insurance costs $4,230.

The revenues obtained from sewage rentals are adequate to finance the system and probably will be continued at the same rate in 1960. The Warren Water Company charged $9,600 for billing costs.

Labor and salary costs were: administrator's salary, $1,600; consulting engineer, $2,700; clerk, $200; legal, $200; auditors, $500; labor, $28,280; total $33,480.

RECOMMENDED CHANGES
The Chester Engineers in their

STORY OF A GALLANT LADY — Margaret Bourke-White, who earned wide fame as a photographer, chats with Teresa Wright, who will portray her in the "Sunday Showcase" colorcast of "The Margaret Bourke-White Story," and Eli Wallach, who will play Alfred Eisenstaedt, a close friend. Miss Bourke-White's bout with Parkinson's disease will be related in the dramatization on the NBC-TV Network Sunday, Jan. 3.

annual report reveal that sewage is being emptied into the river in the Glade area due to the lack of a connection with the interceptor. Sewers on Parker st. and Muir st. ext. are not meeting the requirements of the law and it is proposed that a thorough check of the area should be made to determine if new buildings are properly connected.

Another sewer needed involves the area between St. Clair st. and Tremont ave. on Crescent park. These properties also could be connected to the Oneida st. sewer at the rear of the lots.

The overflow manhole at the foot of Morrison st. does not function as well as it should. The Chester Engineers recommend that a new cross-connection between the discharge chamber of this structure and the existing 15-inch interceptor sewer be made. This would provide a parallel angle and create a siphon effect that would relieve the stoppage effect of the present connection's ninety-degree angle.

The proposed changes should be made immediately to alleviate existing operation troubles and to prevent improper discharge. The money is available in the construction account.

The engineers praised the borough manager and his assistants for the manner in which the program is being handled and commended the borough engineer and other department heads for their assistance in the system's operation.

It Ain't the Gift

It ain't the gift a feller gits,
It ain't the shape ner size,
That sets the heart to beatin'
An' puts sunshine in yer eyes.

It ain't the value of the thing,
Ner how it's wrapped, ner tied;
It's some thing else aside from this
That makes you glad inside.

It's knowin' that it represents
A love, both deep an' true,
That someone carries in his heart
An' wants to slip to you.

It's knowin' that some folks love you,
An' tell you in this way . . .
Jes' sorter actin' out the things
They really long to say.

So, 'taint the gift a feller gets,
Ner how it's wrapped ner tied,
It's knowin' that yer folk LIKE you,
That makes you glad inside.

LLOYD S. COCHRAN

The new Masonic year will be ushered in on Tuesday, Dec. 29. At 6:30 that evening there will be a banquet at the Beaty cafeteria given by North Star Lodge, 241, and the Joseph Warren Lodge, 726, honoring their respective outgoing Worshipful Masters, Gerald Rowley and Richard Metzger. It is the custom at this time to observe the traditional presentation of Past Master Jewels. William Hill, Sr., 33rd Degree Mason, will be master of ceremonies.

Worshipful Past Master Charles Cable will present the jewel to retiring Worshipful Master Gerald Rowley of North Star Lodge, 241; and Worshipful Past Master Henry O. Walker will perform the same honor on retiring Worshipful Master Richard Metzger of Joseph Warren Lodge, 726.

Speaker for the evening will be Lloyd S. Cochran, whose topic will be "Masonic Profiles". Mr. Cochran comes from Buffalo and is a speaker of some renown. He is prominent in Niagara Frontier activities, and also at the national level; vice president of the Western New York District Golf Association; District Deputy Grand Master for Niagara and Orleans Counties in western New York; and a Past Master Masonic Lodge and member of the Consistory, Shrine and Jesters.

Since it is expected that a large crowd will attend the affair, it is requested that reservations be in not later than noon, Saturday, Dec. 26. Reservations may be made by contacting any committee member, or by calling the Masonic Temple RA3-1520 in the evening.

Others Say ...

OUR APOLOGIES TO LEGION

In our issue of December 16 this column stated that the American Legion was excluding from its membership those whose skin was not white and that the 40 et 8 was opposing such a policy. We then published a letter from the 40 et 8 to its national officials asking for a change in the wording.

It seems it is the other way around. It is the 40 et 8 constitution which excludes all except whites and the American Legion has expelled the 40 et 8 for this reason. Local officials of the 40 et 8 are in sympathy with the Legion's objections and are suggesting that its national organization rectify the unAmerican wording in its constitution.

We are in receipt of a letter from the Chief Complanter Post kindly setting us straight in this matter. After quoting our incorrect lead to the "Others Say" column of December 16 it goes on as follows:

"I believe your understanding of the Legion - 40 et 8 controversy is confused and your introduction paragraph is inaccurate and misleading. "It was the American Legion which expelled the 40 et 8 because the 40 et 8's constitution calls for "white" members. Mr. D. E. Schuller, whose letter you published also on December 16, is requesting the national 40 et 8 to delete the 40 et 8's constitutional reference to "white" members. Thus, the local 40 et 8 and the American Legion are jointly opposed to color restrictions for membership.

"The American Legion does perform a leading job in representing the war veteran and hopes to continue as a fighter for Americanism and true freedom. The American Legion does not draw a color line as your column stated.

"To correct the wrong impression that might have been received by some of your readers, and in fairness to the American Legion and to those 40 et 8 members who are seeking a 40 et 8 constitutional revision, please publish this letter.

Yours very truly,

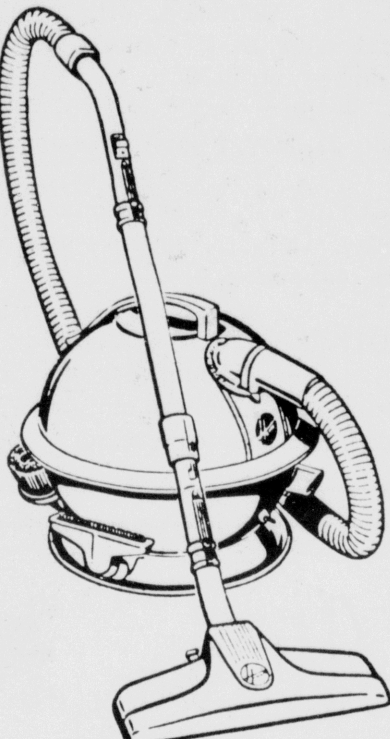

AMERICAN LEGION

NICK CREOLA, SR., SHINES; SHEFFIELD WINS ANOTHER

The veteran Nick Creola donned his basketball togs Monday evening and put on a performance not to be forgotten in the City League annals. The near fifty-year old hoopster, hitting with amazing accuracy with his set shots, poured through 19 points for the Unknowns but in a losing cause. The Sheffield Merchants remained in a tie with Busy Bee for the league lead as they downed the Unknowns, 70-49.

The first quarter proved the downfall for the patched-up Unknowns as Creola hit for the only two points for the loser in that period as Sheffield garnered 20. After that the Unknowns battled on even terms with the Merchants but could never overcome that initial deficit.

Nick's 19 was high for the Unknowns, followed by another YMCA vet, Bob Hammerbeck, who notched 10 points to his credit. Big Rodney Vashaw was the Sheffield sparkplug as he controlled the boards and threw in 21 tallies to lead the Merchants. Labesky hit for 16 and Kolesar rammed home 14.

BUSY BEE IMPRESSIVE IN 67-53 DECISION

The Busy Bee Restaurant was particularly impressive as they notched their second win of the season over a scrappy Blueberry quintet, 67-53. The win enabled the Beemen to keep pace with the Sheffield club in the race for the league lead.

Busy Bee, coached by Dave Bathurst, who also subs when his boys get tired, jumped off to an early 17-8 lead in the first quarter, and this margin was increased by one, two, and one points in the ensuing periods. The victors strong defense appeared to have last year's champs bottled up, but the hustling Innmen were never far out of the contest. With Little Nick Creola paving the way, the Blueberry aggregation pulled within five points of Busy Bee in the last frame but lost their spark when Barry Drexler awed the fans with a bit of fancy shooting to put life back into the winning Busy Bee combo.

In the final minutes of play Busy Bee increased their margin with some solid ball handling and good foul shooting, and then froze the ball for nearly two minutes to cool off any Blueberry offensive threat. "Wink" Rickerson was the big gun for Busy Bee with 17, and Barry Drexler chipped in with 14. Nick Creola had 15 markers for Blueberry, followed by Chuck Reese with 12.

No games will be played this Thursday, but action will resume next Monday as Sheffield and Busy Bee tangle for the loop lead at 7, and Blueberry will do battle with the Unknowns at 8.

DEER KILL REPORT

The Allegheny National Forest deer kill report follows the general pattern in this area where the season was about the same as 1958. The interesting difference is found in the percentage of bucks killed in the antlerless season.

Of 364 antlerless deer, 17.3 per cent were males and 14.5 per cent were fawns. Last year the percentage was 30.4 males and 13.6 fawns. Seventy-five per cent were adult does compared with last year's 59 per cent.

The kill was not too great for the herd. There were some improvements in the ratios and there are less button bucks in the woods. But the inroads of deer on small game food and cover will continue unless the harvest of deer is not well managed.

FRIDAY CAGE RESULTS

In the big tilt Warren dumped Youngsville, 57-43, at Beatty with Arch Hunter pouring in 18 points for the Massamen. George Becker led the losers with 15.

Sheffield journeyed to Johnsonburg only to be sent home with a thorough, 67-52, spanking. The Wolverines now sport a three win - two loss record.

Northern Area still has yet to win a game as they lost to North East, 62-50. Dwight Work continued his scoring spree as he netted 25 points for NA and Wagner and Boerst paced the winners with 20 and 15.

The Tidioute Bulldogs were idle on Friday.

HAWKS, KNICKS, AND CELTS RECORD JUNIOR LOOP WINS

In last Wednesday's Junior League action at the YMCA the Hawks emerged victorious over the Pistons by a 41-25 count. Kurz and Haer led the victor's scoring with 19 and 13 tallies. Bevevino was the high point man for the losers with nine.

On Saturday the Knicks dumped the Celtics, 49-33, paced by Arnold's whopping total of 32 points. The bulk of the Celtic's scoring was done by Guiffre and Seymour, who recorded 14 and 12 points.

The Celtics, paced by Seymour's 24, then turned the tide on the Pistons, winning by a 40-31 margin. The losing Pistons' aggregation was led by Johnson with 14.

THE ROCK MERMEN HOLD AN UNBLEMISHED RECORD

The Slippery Rock swimming team has won its first two meets of the current campaign against Allegheny College and Carnegie Tech. Slippery Rock's Pat Madden has set new records in the 200-yard breaststroke, the 200-yard individual medley, and the 160-yard individual medley.

A RIGHT TO THE STOMACH?

Nope, just after the ball. Bob Hamnerbeck and Larry Lawton tie up Don Labesky in the Sheffield-Unknown scrap Monday evening.

Number 9 is Nick Creola, Sr., who garnered 19 points in the fracas. Who said, "It couldn't be done?"

Deaths

EDNA G. KISTLER

Edna G. Kistler, 69, wife of Dr. Raymon M. Kistler, president of Beaver College in Jenkintown and former pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Warren (1921-28), died Friday, December 18, in Abington.

Besides her husband, she is survived by a son, John Howard, assistant secretary of the Insurance Company of North America, of Orelan; a daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Jean Erskine of Glenside; three grandchildren, and a sister.

Services were held Monday afternoon in Glenside. Interment was private at George Washington Memorial Park.

WILLARD A. FEHLMAN

Willard A. Fehelman, 51, of Pittsfield, died at the Warren General Hospital Tuesday morning, Dec. 22. He was born in Tidioute on February 1, 1908, and had been employed for many years at the National Forge as a press operator. Mr. Fehelman was a member of the Stillwater Lodge 547, F. and A.M. of Youngsville, the Coudersport Consistory, and the Warren Eagles Lodge.

Mr. Fehelman is survived by his wife Genevieve; three sons, Richard, Ronnie and James; his brother, Philip of Pittsfield, and his sister, Mrs. Mary Nelson of Clarendon; three grandchildren.

Friends may call at the family home in Pittsfield at the usual visiting hours. The parish rosary will be recited there Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock and the Requiem Mass will be said by Father Charles Hurley at 10 a.m. Friday in St. Luke's Church, Youngsville. Burial will be in Riverside Cemetery at Pittsfield.

THERESA KAVINSKI

Theresa Kavinski, 71, of 144 Railroad st., Clarendon, died enroute to Warren General Hospital Friday morning. The widow of Andrew Kavinski, she was born in Poland on August 15, 1888, and had resided in Clarendon for the past 50 years.

She was a member of St. Clara's Roman Catholic Church of Clarendon, and the Polish Lodge.

Surviving are ten children, John of Rochester, N.Y., Mike of Binghamton, N.Y., Steven of York, Patrick and Charles of Warren, Mrs. Anna Rosso of Endicott, N.Y., Mrs. Mary Bevevino, Mrs. Julia Albaugh and Mrs. Dorothy Wykoff of Warren, Miss Katherine at home. A son, Joseph, preceded her in death.

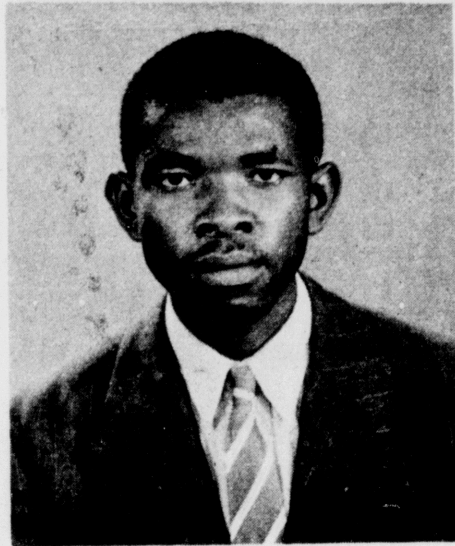

The Requiem Mass was said by the Rev. Fr. Francis Tushim in St. Clara's Church Monday morning, and burial followed in St. Joseph's Cemetery here.

FRANCES C. BALDWIN

Frances C. Baldwin, 82, wife of Dr. W. C. Baldwin of Sugar Grove, died at her home Friday. Born in Roscoe, Ill., January 5, 1878, she became the bride of Dr. Baldwin fifty-three years ago last June.

She was a member of the Methodist Church and of its WSCS and WCTU.

Surviving besides her husband are two sons, Robert of Sugar Grove, and Parke of Oconomowoc, Wis. Also, a granddaughter, Carol Baldwin, of Sugar Grove.

CRUSADER SPEAKER. The Rev. Elie Kaputo of Jadotville, Belgian Congo, Africa, who is a Crusade Scholar at Taylor University, Upland, Indiana, will be the guest-preacher at the 11:00 o'clock service of morning worship at First Methodist Church.

Assisting Dr. A. Culmer Schultz in the service will be Peggy Niederlander and Robert Stevens.

The church school will meet at 10:00 a. m. The Junior-High Youth Fellowship is meeting in the E.D. Everts Room at 6:30 p. m. for the program: "Singing All the Year". The Senior-High Youth Fellowship at 6:30 in Dunham Parlors will hold a discussion on "For Whom Am I Living?" with Dr. Schultz as leader.

A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend these meetings.

Services in her memory were conducted Sunday afternoon from the Sugar Grove Methodist Church with the Rev. Alvin Rhodes, assisted by Merrill Livezey, officiating. Burial was in Cherry Hill Cemetery.

ROBERT A. SMITH

Ten-year-old Robert A. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Smith, 71 Ford st., Youngsville, died at his home Friday morning following a long illness. He was born in Warren, March 16, 1949.

Besides his parents, he is survived by a sister, Jean, at home; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Smith of Youngsville, and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Armstrong, Sr., R. D. 2, Warren.

On Saturday afternoon the Rev. F. Eugene Donelson of Youngsville EUB Church, conducted services from the Young Funeral Home. Interment was in Youngsville Cemetery.

ARTHUR F. BRANN. It has been learned that Arthur F. Brann formerly of Warren, died in his sleep Sunday night at his home in Wichita, Kansas. Mr. Brann lived in this community in his early years, and was a football player during his high school days. He was the son of the late James and Mary Brann.

Mr. Brann is survived by his wife, Laura, and a daughter, Mary, at home; also his brother, Maurice of Princeton, N.J.

DRAGONS TIP EAST, 55 - 52

A freak incident spelled defeat for the Erie East boys last evening as the Blue and White evened their fourth consecutive victory, 55-52. With less than two minutes remaining in the game with Erie in the lead, 50-49, Jim Redding grabbed a rebound off the Warren board and landed with his back to the basket. Jim attempted to spin around and shoot but was fouled in the act but no whistle blew. With disgust the big boy lofted the ball over his shoulder, hitting the bank board, and while nine confused hoopsters stood with their hands at their sides, Arch Hunter dumped in the ball for the two points which broke the East team's back.

The contest was a nip and tuck affair all the way with the play ragged at times. The teams were knotted at 13-13 at the end of the first period and Warren held leads of 26-25 and 43-38 at the ends of the next stanzas. In the final frame Erie, sparked by their flashy guard, John Gulick, outpointed the locals, 14-12, but the Dragons' timely foul shooting earned them the victory (plus the Redding-Hunter anomaly, of course).

Ross Kremer, with 20 points, led the Dragons, with Doug Lind contributing 12. Johnny Gulick stole the scoring show for the evening, however, with a high of 25.

DEERSLAYER. Sixteen-year-old Jimmy Flaus, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Flaus, former residents of Warren, has Lady Luck as his companion each time he ventures into the forest in quest of an antlered deer. Young Jimmy this season bagged his third buck in four expeditions into the timber.

At the tender age of thirteen Jimmy, accompanied by his father, took to the woods of Pennsylvania and was fortunate enough to have a buck cross his sights. The next season Jimmy's parents moved to Florida and the youngster was forced to seek out the antlered ones from the southern state. This particular year was Jimmy's off year.

Taking part in the Inverness hunt, a hunt where 4,000 nimrods crowded into a 40,000 acre plot to bag 400 deer, Jimmy downed an eight point beauty. This past season was only a few minutes old when the young deerslayer had added his third notch to his rifle.

In the right place at the right time?—Who knows, maybe Jimmy is talented.

This article was made possible through the efforts of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Rowley, who recently traveled to Florida to visit with Mr. Rowley's parents. While in the Sunshine State they journeyed to Lakeland to visit the Flaus family. Their address is 745 S. Johnson ave., Lakeland, Florida.

NO FISHING BUTTONS
Pennsylvania finally has joined the majority of states which have no fishing buttons that must be worn during moments of pleasure. The 1960 license is in paper form and you are required to have it on your person while fishing, but there is no button.
The new booklet of laws and regulations has not been published and will be distributed in January. There are very few changes from the 1959 regulations. Here are the main ones:

A nine-inch minimum has been placed on bass.
The minimum size of walleye and pickerel has been increased to fifteen inches.
The creel limit for panfish will be twenty-five of one kind or a combined total of fifty. These include sunfish, bluegills, yellow perch, crappies, rock bass, and catfish.

SMALLER KILL
No official figures on the deer kill are available from the Game

Commission, however it is estimated that the overall kill in the state will be less than last year, but fairly large. Fewer hunters who spent fewer hours in the woods is the combination blamed. Which doesn't make much sense in a county where 16,500 antlerless deer licenses were sold.
However, they estimate that the kill in our area will compare with 1958 and that the shooting per hour afield will be higher. Rain spoiled many days, keeping the hunters home or in their cars.

FRIGHTENER
A sick hunter resulted this season when he was arrested by a protector for having a loaded rifle in his car. He had told the protector it was empty, a statement he sincerely believed. When a corroded bullet that had been there since he used the rifle three or four years before was found the owner turned pale.

In the intervening years the rifle had been moved about his home and had been handled by various members of the family, including some very young ones. He paid a fine of $10, but the penalty came close to being much more heavy.
The rules are so simple we can't understand how this ever happens. But perhaps the rules are so simple that they seem childish and hunters feel silly about carrying them out.
Check the rifle when you pick it up. Check it before you enter your car. Load it when you enter the fields or woods. Empty it when you enter your car. Check it when you leave the car. Check it when you put it away, and certainly when you clean it.
And we suggest another timely check point. Examine it whenever you pick it up, or whenever you think a periodic look is in order. Someone with tiny fingers may have worked a bullet into it.
A boring routine. But a lifesaver.

DEER MANAGEMENT STUDY
(The Pennsylvania Forest Industries committee offers the following result of a deer management study.)
Professional deer management knowledge is far ahead of practices followed in many states, according to a report on a recent survey of wildlife experts taken by the Pennsylvania Forest Industries Committee.

ed. A question on this was answered directly by 42 wildlife men. Of these answers, 40, or 95 per cent, indicated no higher casualties in hunters' choice seasons.
Mr. Wingard drew a number of other conclusions from the survey. Among them were:
1. Management units or area control systems are needed to handle problem situations with deer. Hunters' choice seasons should be handled by establishing specific areas so that hunter distribution and deer harvest can be controlled.
2. Hunting pressure and distribution of hunters into problem areas is a common difficulty in most deer states.
3. Deer herds must be balanced with carrying capacity of the range before habitat management should be attempted. It will take herd reduction and time before a deteriorated range, such as is found in Pennsylvania, can recover.
4. A buck only hunting season, followed by an any deer season "may offer maximum hunting opportunity. If sufficiently bold in execution, this could accomplish the needed full harvest, hunter distribution, and most important, the desired herd-range balance."

'58 Alumni Face '59 Club Tuesday Night

The 1958 WHS basketball team, which was comprised mainly of seniors, will go against the 1959 version next Tuesday on the Beaty hardwood in the annual Alumni game. According to the boys, who are all at college, they have a special treat in store for the fans and plan to give Coach Joe Massa's forces a treatment instead of a treat.

Participating in the gala event will be Bill Mervine from Haverford; Nick Creola from Kent State; Mike Cashman who is attending the University of Michigan; from Ohio Wesleyan, Bill Brumagin; Hugo McKelvy currently at Bethel U.; Jack Lobdell and Mark Peterson from Westminster College; Dick Wilson, playing with the Grove City Varsity; Craig Johnson of Pennsylvania University; and Joe Massa who is studying at Notre Dame. Vic Suppa, one of the 1958 managers, will also suit up for the contest.

The 1958-59 squad compiled a total of 15 wins and six defeats over the campaign, being one of the tallest teams that Warren has floored in quite a few years. They are expected to present a real test for Warren's varsity squad, which has been improving slowly but surely in the current season.

In the preliminary game the two Warren rivals of the City League, Busy Bee and Blueberry Hill Inn, will tangle at 7 p.m. The two squads have met twice this season with Busy Bee coping both tilts by narrow margins. The Varsity-Alumni skirmish will start immediately following the completion of the prelim.

"Matrimony was probably the first union to challenge management."

IN OR OUT? These eager hoopsters stand in readiness for a rebound in the Warren-Youngsville tilt last Friday evening. Warren's Jim Redding and Arch Hunter are in back of the two Eagles gazing at the ball which seems to be attached to the rim by a quirk of photography. Warren dumped the Eagles 57-43 in the contest.

The excitement of preparation,
The glow of friendship,
The pleasures of giving:
There's something here for everyone to enjoy.

To you and all your family:
Our Best Wishes
for a day, a season, a year, that will reward you richly.
